

Virginia Beef Council Grant Funding Application

The Virginia Beef Council is a producer-funded checkoff program whose mission is to enhance consumer preference for beef and to sustain Virginia families. Moreover, our aim is to utilize the specific priorities, listed below, to achieve our mission. Funds are derived from a $1-per-head checkoff collected on each beef and dairy animal sold. These funds are used in programs for promotion, consumer education, producer communications, and research to promote the benefits of beef, and increase the beef demand within our state. Our primary audiences include 1-millennial parents, who are the largest population group of potential beef consumers in our country, and 2- the influencers of these millennial parents (health professionals, retail, foodservice, fitness professionals, bloggers, media personnel, etc).

Each fall, VBC Board of Directors considers outside grant proposals to fund for the upcoming fiscal year (October 1 – September 30). Grant proposals should augment the efforts of the Beef Checkoff through our priorities and mission.

Priorities & Areas of Focus for VBC to accomplish our mission:

Beef's Image:

Strengthening the image of the beef community and how beef is brought from pasture to plate. This area is primarily a consumer-aimed message about beef production as a whole, including topics such as production methods & education about beef choices (grass-fed, grain-fed, organic, etc.)

Beef's Nutrition/Health:

Enhancing consumer knowledge of the positive health and nutritional benefits of beef. Specifically, how beef can sustain Virginia families as a nutrient dense food source.

Beef's Convenience:

Fulfilling consumer expectations for beef selection, preparation & ease-of-use. Examples include 30-minute-or-less recipe development, versatility of beef, etc.

Beef's Safety:

Continually improve consumer confidence in food safety of beef, and education consumers about the practices of food safety in the home after purchase.

Deadline: Applications may be submitted as completed.

Applicants can expect the opportunity to present their proposal directly to the board of directors on the next scheduled meeting date of the Council Board of Directors.

Please submit completed proposals to: Virginia Beef Council,
Stephanie Weiss, Executive Director, PO Box 9, Daleville VA, 24083
